

Sarah Frances Phillips
10 Washington Place
NYU Department of Linguistics
New York NY 10003
Sarah.Phillips@nyu.edu
www.sarahfphillips.com

Research Interests:

Bilingualism, Neurolinguistics, Psycholinguistics, Syntax and its Interfaces, Language Acquisition/Development, Languages in Contact

Education:

2017 – Present
Ph.D. in Linguistics
New York University
Advisor: Liina Pykkänen

2015 – 2017
M.A. in Linguistics
California State University – Northridge
Re-visiting the DP hypothesis: An exploration through English/Korean codeswitching
Committee: David J. Medeiros (chair), Sharon Klein, Joseph Galasso

2007 – 2011
B.A. in Linguistics
University of Georgia
Focus: Second Language Acquisition

B.A. in International Affairs
University of Georgia
Focus: International Relations Theory

Presentations:

2017.04.29
Tsuyoi-er Together: Exploring the potential of Proposition 58
CSUN Associated Graduate Students of English Conference
California State University – Northridge

2017.04.20
What can Bilingualism tell us?
Guest lecture, LING566: Research Methods
California State University – Northridge

2016.11.02
Blasian: Projecting identity through language
Guest lecture, AAS335: Biracial/Multiracial Identity
California State University – Northridge

2016.09.28
Switching It Up: A talk on bilingualism and codeswitching
Guest lecture, LING427: Languages in Contact
California State University – Northridge

Awards:

- 2017 BUCLD42 Diversity Enhancement Award
MacCracken Fellowship
- 2007 National Achievement Scholarship

Teaching:

- Fall 2018 LING UA-15: Language and Society
Teaching Assistant
New York University
- SCHOL UA-20: Sophomore Scholars Program
Graduate Course Assistant
New York University

Service & Appointments:

- 2018 New Ways of Analyzing Variation 47
Media Communications Coordinator
New York University
- 2017 Linguistics in Practice Institute
Co-Organizer
California State University – Northridge
- Search and Screen Committee for the Associate Dean of the College of Humanities
Student Representative
California State University - Northridge

Relevant Work Experience:

- 2016 – 2017 Learning Resource Center, SMART Lab
Instructional Support Assistant (Linguistics, English)
California State University – Northridge
- 2014 – 2016 SAGE Publishing, College Education
Sales and Marketing Specialist
Thousand Oaks, CA
- 2008 – 2010 ATLAS Project
Undergraduate Research Assistant
University of Georgia
- 2008 – 2009 International Rescue Committee
ESL Volunteer Instructor
Atlanta, GA

Skills:

Languages
Technology

English (Native), Korean (Native/Heritage), Spanish (Basic), Japanese (Basic)
HTML (Basic), CSS (Basic), Python (Basic), Adobe, Microsoft Office, R